Mission Statement of Marine Corps League

Members of the Marine Corps League join in camaraderie and fellowship for the purpose of preserving traditions. Promoting the interests of the United States Marine Corps, banding together those who are now serving in the United States Marine Corps and those who have been honorably discharged from that service. Effectively promote the ideals of American freedom and democracy. Voluntarily aiding and rendering assistance to all Marines, FMF Corpsmen, Chaplains, and former Marines, FMF Corpsmen, Chaplains, and their widows and orphans; and to perpetuate the history of the United States Marine Corps and by fitting acts to observe the anniversaries of historical occasions of particular interest to Marines.

COMMANDANT'S CORNER

Marine Corps League Lakeland Detachment—744 March 2019

Iwo Jima, otherwise known as Sulfur Island represented a strategically important air base which would allow fighter escorts to support long-range bombing missions against mainland Japan. The island would provide an emergency landing strip for crippled B-29's returning from bombing runs. The seizure of Iwo would allow for sea and air blockades, provide for the ability to conduct intensive air bombardment and provide the opportunity to destroy the enemy's air and naval capabilities.

The battle commenced February 19, 1945 and ceased March 16, 1945. Mopping up activities commenced after that to clean up the remaining pockets of resistance. The island was officially declared secured on March 26, 1945. This year marks the seventy fourth anniversary of that historic battle.

The seizure of Iwo Jima was deemed necessary, but, would not come easy. 70,000 U.S. Marines would be involved in the invasion. Total U.S losses amounted to 28,686 of which 6,821 were KIA, 19,217 were WIA and 2,648 suffered combat fatigue. Of the total number, Marine casualties amounted to 23,573. Japanese losses amounted to 1,083 POW's and over 20,000 est. killed.

We have two surviving members of the Battle of Iwo Jima in our Detachment, Gene Frederick, who was awarded the Navy Cross for his actions and Anthony Lechniak, who was a Combat Engineer. Both men epitomize the strong values that make up Marines. We should consider ourselves fortunate to have known these two Marines and to be present in their company. Well done Marines, the Lakeland Detachment and our country honor and salute you.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific Fleet/Commander in Chief, Pacific Ocean areas said it best:

“Among the Americans who served on Iwo Island, Uncommon Valor was a Common Virtue”.

Semper Fidelis,

Charlie

Jimmy Stewart's Testimony

"It's a Wonderful Life" has become one of the favorite films of all time, viewed by millions during the Christmas season. Many who enjoyed this classic film may not know of Jimmy Stewart's faith and the difference it made as he served in World War II.

Jimmy Stewart (1908-1997) was already a successful actor when the U.S. entered the War in 1941. In 1935 Stewart took flying lessons at Minesfield, now Los Angeles International Airport, and by 1939 he had qualified for both private and commercial pilot's licenses.

With the continued escalation of the war in Europe, Stewart enlisted in the Army Air Corps in 1941 but was not commissioned until January 1942. His family had a distinguished record of military service. Both of his grandfathers served in the Civil War, and his dad, Alex, saw combat near San Juan Hill in the Spanish-American War and served in World War I.

When Jimmy left home to go overseas, his dad was so filled with emotion that he couldn't express his thoughts. Soon Jimmy received the following note from his dad:

" My dear Jim boy. Soon after you read this letter, you will be on your way to the worst sort of danger. Jim, I'm banking on the enclosed copy of the 91st Psalm. The thing that takes the place of fear and worry is the promise of these words. I am staking my faith in these words. I feel sure that God will lead you through this mad experience... I can say no more. I only continue to pray. Goodbye, my dear. God bless you and keep you. I love you more than I can tell you. Dad."

Jimmy Stewart's war record included 20 combat missions as command pilot. After being promoted to squadron commander, he became operations officer, and from 1944 to 1945 served as chief of staff, 2nd Combat Wing, 2nd Division, 8th Air Force.

With the weight of leadership in combat, Jimmy Stewart learned to lean on the words of that tattered copy of the 91st Psalm: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord. He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him I will trust... Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day... For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone..."

"What a promise for an airman," Jimmy later would say. "I placed in His Hands the squadron I would be leading. And, as the psalmist promised, I felt myself borne up."

Service Officers Report
March

Our next Bingo is on the 12th of March, (Which is the 2nd Tuesday of the month) at 2 PM. Come out and join us for a good time with some of our Resident Veterans at the Paramus Veterans Nursing Home, at 1 Veterans Way, Paramus NJ.

I want to also remind everyone that our next Saturday Breakfast will be on the 16th of March from 8 AM till 12 Noon. We sure could use your helping hands. Hope to see you there.

Lastly,

Everything for our Trip to Washington is set. The flyer explaining the details appears on pages 10 and 11 of The Grunt. If you haven't signed up yet, there are still spots open. At last count we have about 35 who said they will be joining the trip.

As always, if there is anything that I can do to help you with some of your VA Issues, feel free to call me.

Greetings Marines,

While there are several important events that occurred during the month of March in the Marine Corps magnificent history including the end of the Battle for Iwo Jima, there was one event that I felt fitting to cover in detail given our pending trip to Washington DC in June.

On March 31st, 1801, LtCol Commandant William W. Burrows rode with president Thomas Jefferson to look for "a proper place to fix the Marine Barracks on." President Jefferson was a personal friend of the Commandant, and was deeply interested in the welfare of the Corps. In as such, he felt it necessary to accompany Burrows on horseback to select a site for the new Marine Corps Barracks.

In 1800 the Capital of the United States of America was relocated to it's new site which had been secured from the states of Maryland and Virginia with the agreement that the capitol be located in a southern location rather than New York or Philadelphia. The trade off was to disperse expenses from the Revolutionary War which were mainly bourn by the Northern and Middle Atlantic States among all of the states with control from the federal government. The Southern States agreed with the condition that the new capitol be located in the south. In 1788 and 1789 respectfully, Maryland and Virginia voted to reserve a parcel of land not exceeding 10 square miles near the Potomac River as the new site of the federal government. In 1790, the Residency Act enabled the construction of the new capitol and allowed for the raising of funds to support it. The Residency Act also provided a statute that made this land separate from any state's control.

President Jefferson and LtCol Commandant Burrows chose a square in Southeast Washington, bounded by 8th & 9th streets, and A & I streets, because it lay near the Navy Yard and was within easy marching distance of the Capitol.

Eighth & I is considered the oldest post in the Marine Corps and the official residence of the Commandant of the Marine Corps. When the British captured and burned Washington DC during the War of 1812, they left the Marine Barracks alone as a tribute to the heroic defense put up by Captain Miller's Marines during the Battle of Bladensburg which delayed the British capture of Washington DC and allowed the government to escape. The Commandant's House is the only original building in the complex as the rest of the buildings were reconstructed between 1900 and 1907. In 1974, the Marine Barracks, was entered into the National Register of Historic Places and declared a National Landmark by the Department of the Interior.

In addition to being the official residence of the Commandant, Marine Barracks currently is home to the following:

The Silent Drill Team, The Marine Band, The Marine Corps Drum and Bugle Corps, The official Marine Corps Color Guard and the Marine Corps Body Bearers. From 1920 through 2015, it also housed the Marine Corps Institute. In 2015, the Marine Corps Institute mission transitioned to the College of Distance Education and Training (CDET) at Marine Corps University (MCU) Marine Base Quantico, VA. The Marine Corps Institute was deactivated in Oct 2015. It is also the primary ceremonial site for the Marine Corps.

Marines stationed at Eighth & I have the following duties: Funeral Escort for Marines and other dignitaries, Ceremonial Honor Guards for state functions, security for Camp David and the White House Communications Agency, Friday Evening Parade and Tuesday Evening Sunset Parade at the Marine Corps Memorial during the summer months. There are stringent requirements of Marines that are stationed at the Marine Barracks. They must meet specific height and weight requirements, and pass a full background check since they are assigned to the White House and other State Department details.

Quartermaster's Report

I'm still working on getting in a few requests in which are taking a little longer than I anticipated (trying to get the best deals as possible) and hope to have some of them in time for the March Breakfast. We have some new knives and hats in our inventory so come on down and check them out. We also have embroidered long sleeve t-shirts and embroidered detachment t-shirts.

Our current vendor for the our Detachment Jackets now wants a minimum order of 10. I currently have 4 orders pending so if anyone is interested in ordering the detachment jacket, please contact me asap. If we get another 6 orders, I'll move forward with them. I'll be searching out a new source for the jackets in the meantime. If anyone has any ideas or something that you think we should carry for both the Ship's Store and the Rose Programs, please let me know.

Semper Fi,
Ken Gysbers

Washington DC Trip

June 28th to June 30

Itinerary

Hotel in Washington DC, 20-24 rooms: Comfort Inn Downtown DC/Convention Center

June 28th: Depart 7:30am Oakland Elks Club, 33 Route #202, Oakland, NJ

We'll travel south to Washington through New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland. We will stop at the Maryland House on the way to stretch our legs and to get a quick bite to eat. The bus will arrive at the Air and Space Museum at approximately 1:30 PM and we will have a guided tour of the museum. From the Museum we will be taken to our hotel to check in, relax and have a bite to eat before going to 8th and I, as special guests for the evening Parade.

Depart for the evening Parade by 6:00pm Must be at the Parade by 7:00PM The Evening Parade is a marvelous display of planning and precision formations This parade is held at Marine Barracks in Washington DC, which is the "Oldest Post of the Corps." Marine Barracks has been used for many events since the early 20th Century including Presidential inaugurations and other special celebrations. After the parade and ceremony we will return to the hotel.

June 29: Breakfast at the hotel

We will be leaving early in the AM to go to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Special arrangements have been made for our group, and we will be there for the Changing of the Guard at 9:15 AM. At which time (4) from our group will have the honor to Lay the Wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. After the Ceremony we will take the bus to the Main building at Arlington Cemetery and we can then take the tram and have a guided tour of the Cemetery. If the restoration of the Lee Museum and Grounds have been completed we will have the opportunity to Tour the Mansion and Grounds. Around 1 PM, we will arrive at the Marine Corps Museum. At this time we are in the process of arranging for a Special Tour of the Museum and to arrange either a late lunch at Tun Tavern or early Dinner (Or Both at your expense).

At 5:30pm , we will have our farewell dinner at Globe and Laurel restaurant, which is actually the insignia of the UK's Royal Marines," Richard "Rick" T. Spooner (born 1925) is a former officer in the United States Marine Corps and the proprietor of The Globe and Laurel Restaurant in Stafford, Virginia just a few miles south of the main gate of Marine Corps Base Quantico.

June 30: Breakfast at the Hotel

We will be doing an either or. If the weather is good, the bus will drop us off at Downtown Washington and everyone is free to sight-see on their own. Everything is in walking distance and we can see the Vietnam Memorial, the Korean Memorial, (my personal favorite) the WW2 Memorial, WW1 Memorial, the Women's Vietnam Memorial, to name just a few. If weather is inclement, we will all be taken to the Smithsonian Museum to tour on our own. Shortly after noon we will get back on the bus for our trip back home.

Military Humor

Slap Happy Marine: A young Marine and his commanding officer climbed on board a train headed through the mountains of Switzerland. The only place they could find to sit was right across the aisle from a young woman and her grandmother. After a while, it became obvious that the young woman and the young soldier were interested in each other, but the young woman kept glancing nervously at her grandmother.

Soon the train passed into a pitch black tunnel. There was the sound of a passionate kiss followed by the sound of a stinging slap. When the train emerged from the tunnel, the four sat there without saying a word.

The grandmother thought to herself: "It was very brash for that young soldier to kiss my granddaughter, and I'm glad she slapped him."

The commanding officer sat there thinking: "I figured he'd try to steal a kiss, but I sure wish she hadn't missed him when she slapped and hit me!"

The young woman was sitting and thinking: "I'm glad the soldier kissed me, but I wish my grandmother had not slapped him!"

The young Marine sat there with a satisfied smile on his face. He thought to himself: "Life is good. When does a fellow have the chance to kiss a beautiful girl and slap his commanding officer all at the same time!"

Father Murphey walked into a pub: Father Murphy walked into a pub and said to the first Marine he met, "Do you want to go to heaven?" The Marine said, "I do Father." The priest said, "Leave this pub right now!" He then approached a second Marine. "Do you want to go to heaven?" "Certainly, Father," was the Marine's reply. "Then leave this den of Satan!" said the priest. Father Murphy then walked up to an old SgtMaj and asked, "Do you want to go to heaven?" The SgtMaj replied: "No, I don't Father." The priest looked him right in the eye and said, "You mean to tell me that when you die you don't want to go to heaven?" The SgtMaj smiled, "Oh, when I die! Why...yes Father. Shit, I thought you were getting a working party together to go right now!"
